"I highly recommend Kingdom Press and Christians In Business to you. They have exceeded our expectations by providing a full color printed directory, as well as a fully functional online solution, all at no cost to our church. By providing a turnkey program, our staff involvement has been kept to an absolute minimum. We simply made the information cards available to our congregation, made the pulpit announcement, and Kingdom Press did all the rest.

One of the most exciting parts of the program was discovering over 850 business owners and potential leaders that we are now able to connect with. Not only did they provide us with the listings of the businesses in our church, but they gave us a back office solution where we can stay in touch with these businesses quickly and easily through email.

We have had more positive feedback than expected, both while the program was going on and by businesses afterwards. We heard many stories of increased business directly related to the use of the directory. From start to finish, this project has been a positive experience for us. You won't be disappointed by partnering with Kingdom Press and Christians In Business. They are ministry minded and we appreciate the level of service they have given us at every phase of the operation."
