Craig:

Trinity Church International recently completed a Business Directory with Kingdom Press. From start to finish, Craig King and his team presented the project in a professional, no-pressure, Christ-like manner.

We were very pleased with the quality of the book and the online directory and it has been a great resource for our church members and visitors. In a church our size, it is difficult to know who does what. On a regular basis, individuals would call the church office asking if there was a plumber or electrician or auto mechanic in the church. Now we can direct them to the book or the online directory with several choices. It has also helped to put names with faces and services.

With Kingdom Press, there was no fine print or hidden surprises. They were upfront and accommodating with us and our church business owners for the duration of the project.

We look forward to working with Kingdom Press again. God bless you and your work.

Sincerely,
